

I hope you will enjoy this short video from a TED presentation about gratitude, imagination and blessings. Do you think today is just another day? Watch this and you will remember that it is special!

At the beginning I wasn't exactly sure what the girls' message was, at minute 2 I was hooked, throughout the video I felt many goosebumps, enjoyed the beautiful views and faces, thoughts... the message, no... messageS.. I'd love to know what you noticed after watching this video, there's a comments section below if you'd like to share your thoughts.

With heartfelt wishes for a wonderful day of giving and receiving the magic of exploration, fascination and gratitude. If you like the video, be sure to share it with someone who is special to you!

Happy Thanksgiving and with Gratitude,

Trish
